Fact Sheet – Rumpke Sanitary Landfill

History

- Rumpke is a family-owned and operated business, founded in 1932 by William Rumpke near Cincinnati, Ohio.
- Rumpke Sanitary Landfill, located in Colerain Township, Ohio, has been in operation since 1950. Rumpke purchased the site in 1950 and has continued to operate the facility as a valuable asset to the Greater Cincinnati Region.

Current Operations

- Rumpke Sanitary Landfill employs more than 1,000 people locally and is one of the largest employers in the Colerain Township and Hamilton County.
- The landfill is open 24 hours a day, seven days a week. The landfill is open to residential customers Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Saturday from 7 a.m. to noon.
- The landfill is permitted to receive municipal solid waste (MSW) and construction demolition debris (CDD) and has a permitted waste receipt limit of 10,000 tons per day.
- The current facility consists of nearly 500 acres total, with 334 acres permitted for waste disposal. Rumpke owns more than 800 acres at the site, much of which is used as buffer area.

Regulations

- The landfill operates in strict compliance with state and federal environmental regulations.
- The facility is regularly inspected or regulated by:
    - Hamilton County General Health District
    - Ohio Environmental Protection Agency (EPA – Division of Solid and Infectious Waste, Division of Water and Division of Air)
    - Ohio Department of Natural Resources (Division of Mineral Resources Management)
    - Mine Safety Health Administration
    - Ohio State Fire Marshall
    - Occupational Safety and Health Administration
    - Rumpke

Rumpke and the Local Economy

- RSL pays nearly $9 million to the State of Ohio in landfill tipping fees annually.
- RSL pays nearly $3 million to the Hamilton County Solid Waste Management District in landfill tipping fees annually.
- RSL pays nearly $1 million in host community fees to Colerain Township.
